OPERATE by their powerful induces on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action. They remove the obstructions of the stomach, and bowels, liver and other organs of the body, and by restoring their irregular action to health, correct, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first cause of disease. An extensive trial of their virtues, by Professors, Physicians, and patients, has shown cures of dangerous diseases almost beyond helief, were they not substantiated by persons of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth.—Their certificates are published in my American Almanac, which the agents below named are pleased to furnish free to all inquiring.

and, which the agents below armed are pleased to farnish free to all impulsing.

Annoxed we give directions for their use in the complaints which they have been found to cure.

For Corresposes,—Take one or two pills or such quantity as to gently move the bawels. Contiveness is frequently the aggravating cause of Pilles, and the cure of one compaint is the cure of both. No person can feel well while under a costive habit of body.—Hence it should be, as it can be, groundly -relieved.

For Dyspersia, which is sometimes the cause of costiveness, and always undemfortable, take mild doses—from one to four—to stimulate the stomach and lives into healthy action. They will do it, and the heartburn, hodyburn, soulburn of dyspensia will repidly disappear. When it has gone, don't forget what overed you.

For a Foul Stomach, or Marbid Inaction of the Boweved you.

For a Foul Stomach, or Marbid Inaction of the Blowels, which produces general depression of the spirits and bad health, take from four to eight pills at first, and smaller dose afterwards, until activity and strength is restored to the system.

From the American Agriculturist. Wonders of the Bee Hive.

SWARMING. One of the most curious things we have to tell about the bee, is the process by which families or stocks of bees are multiplied. It would be a problem difficult of solution for one ignorant of the mode. Here is a family ly a hundred political friends left in his own consisting of one mother, and her offspring the former living several years, while the common bees are short-lived. She cannot bear the presence of rivals in her hive; her own departure would occasion great commotion; she is utterly unable to go out alone age of 16 years, served under Washington until and lay the foundation of a new colony; and a severe wound compelled him to retire, studied ten thousand bees without her would not be for the ministry, entered the pulpit and has able to produce any broad or keep their number good. And against any scheme of colonizing is the strong instinct that brings the foraging bees directly back to the old hive, and the persistance with which they cling to their stores of honey and their broad comb.

But God has given them other instincts which come into operation at the right mement, and make a certain number perfectly willing to abandon their home and fellowcandidate in the seventh congressional district, | workers, never more to return. Early in the summer, perhaps about the time some of our readers receive this number of the Agriculturist, the hives begin to be uncomfortably full of inmates, and preparations are made for swarming. Royal cells are constructed. and the occupants are nicely cared for. This is for the benefit of those to be left in the vention of the republicans of Michigan, for the hive, for the mother bee is herself going to nomination of state officers, is called to meet at | emigrate with a large number of workers and drones. Perhaps scouts are sent out before hand to see if quarters can be secured in the neighborhood for a term of years; such at east is the opinion of emineut naturalists. At length, on a pleasant day, and usually not far from midday, the occupants of the hive are all found to be in a great commotion; some of them are filling their bags with honey, and others are loitering around, made an administration organ, and the proprietike people in the streets of a city when a tor finds it more in harmony with his feelings regiment of soldiers is expected to come along. By-and-by, with a great rush and whirl, they pour out of the hive as if the house was on fire, and fly off in a cloud, and settling down in a cluster on the branch of an apple-tree, they speedily come to order and consult as to the next step. After remaining there an hour or two, if not taken care of they will, perhaps, start off in a beeline for their new home, which may be miles distant. While clustered on the tree they that he will lose his sight. His brother and a may be handled without injury, as their young boy and girl, standing near him at the abundant supply of food makes them docile, and if then provided with a home they may accept the offer of hospitality and forego their own plans. Sometimes, instead of pausing at all, or hovering around in circles, they dart away at once in the direction of stand, says the Wisconsin, that the directors of their new home. Sometimes, also, in an the Milwaukee and Beloit railroad company apiary they are glad to take possession of have made arrangements to pay the coupons of an empty hive, if one stands ready for them, and if it is well stored with comb, it is all the better, and more attractive. It is supposed that those who have gone from the hive in this natural fever lose en IMPORTANT INVENTION .- Mr. Albert Marsh of tirely the instinct which had before impelled them to return to the old home, and readily adant themselves to their new hive, whether t is placed two feet or two miles from the old stand. We leave the subject for the present, with this, perhaps, the greatest of wonders. It is to the bees as if Queen Victoria, with a nortion of her subjects and as much treasure as could be caught up hastily n their hauds, should some day leave their nomes, their gardens, their palaces, their all, and take ship for Australia, to found there a new kingdom, cutiraly soperate from the old. But in these justinets, and in all the wonders of the hive, the hand of God is seen. We admire these things most as exhibitions of His workmenship and providence and wisdon. His hand is seen in the structure of the bee: His controlling power in the impulses to which it is led to act. The cuning work in wax, the economy in the use of naterial, the treasuring up of stores for winter's use and for human comfort, the provision for an increase of numbers, the barmony and industry of the workers, and all the curious things which have been observed for centuries, turn our minds from Nature to Nature's God. He only is from age to age: but all His works praise Him, and blessed be his glorious name forever and ever.

All these things are made for man. Dominion is given to our race over every beast of the field, and everything that creeps or flies. And for what end is man made in the image of God? and why has he received authority and power? Is it that he may be like the protes that perish, indifferent to God? forgotful of his Maker's will? or like the horses and mules that have no understanding. whose mouths must be held with bit and bridle? Nay, but rather that he may every where read the revelation God has made in Nature, as well as in Scripture, and reverently, in a meck and childlike spirit, may learn to think the thoughts of God," and do His deasure. Herein is human greatness—heren can man be made like his Maker.

JANESVILLE WHOLESALE MARKET. Reported for the Janesville Daily Gamette, by Bump & Gray, RAIN AND PRODUCE DEALER:

JANESVILLE, July 2, 1859. Receipts of grain for the past week have been much larger than the week previous, though prices have not ruled as high, except on outs, and they have sold higher the past week than any week of the season, sale being made as high as $1 %c. The range through the week has been from 29 to 31% o for good bright ones. Wheat was active on Monday at 63266c for good dry milling, and common shipping 53a61c; since then it has declined to 58a5Se for shipping, and 61a64e for nilling. Yesterday sales were freely made at the decline. Good milling wheat is rather scarce, and it will probably rule from 5 to Sc higher than shipping wheat until after harvest, as there seems to be a strong com-petition between mill buyers. LIFE FIRE AND MARINE INSURANCE FOR FARMERS AND CELEBRATIONS .- - We have received a copy of the order of the day from no other place than Broadhead, which will be found in our local column. If our friends abroad care so little about their own localities as to withhold information that can be furnished with little or no trouble, and which we would cheerfully publish without any charge, we do not know that anybody but themselves can be censured for the omission to publish what they would be pleased to see in their county paper.

So far as we have gathered in different ways, celebrations will be held in the following places in this county: Evansville-David Noggle, orator; 3d not known. Shopiere-L. P. Harvey, orator; 3d July.

TO MAKE RHUBARB WINE-From an English Recipe Book .- Bruise or make your rhubarb fine, and put into a large tub. To every peck of pulp add three quarts of water; then let it stand forty-eight hours, strain it off and add one pound of sugar to every quart of syrup; stir it well and toast a piece of bread; spread over it a little balm and put it into the liquor; let it stand over night, then put it into your barrei; keep filling it up as it works until it is done; then take one quart out and put in one ounce of isinglass; to color it, add a little burnt sugar; bung it up well and let it stand until Christmas; then bottle it up and it is fit for use. Before bottling add a little brandy.

We are indebted to Mr. B. B. Olds, of Clinton, for the above recipe. He has gooseherry and red and black current and rhubarb wire for sale.

MILL PROPERTY FOR SALE .- Attention is called to the advertisement of W. H. Pease, esq., in another column offering his valuable mill property for sale at Fulton, in this county.

tater from Utah.

The San Francisco Herald, received by the steamer Moses Taylor, contains some late intelligence from the Mormons. It says that Brigham Young with his followers were at Provo City. A few Mormons remain at Salt Lake to take care of the crops.

Governor Comming was received with cordi-ality, and found affairs in a better condition than he expected. No property was destroyed and the city was in no manner injured. Three parties of Mormons had been dispatched on surveying expeditions, all in a southerly direction. Brigham Young had selected, it was stated, as a new residence, a tract of country hitherto unexplored, lying between the old Spenish trail to New Mexico and the the central route. It is said that this territory is fertile and that it is the intention of the Mormon leader and his people, or as many as will accompany him, to stay there sufficient time to raise a crop and to deliberate and come to a conclusion as to their future movements. Mr. Knight states an information derived from the party who arrived at San Bernardio that dispatches will be forwarded by Governor Cumming to Washington by the next California mail, which will be the in about ten days. It was the intention of column Kane to have for the east when his baggage reached Salt Lake. Mr. Hunt was instructed to use all haste in performing his ionr ney both to and from San Hernardino, which accounts for his extraordinary quick trip, and the relays of animals provided for him. There was no doubt entertained that Colonel Kane is a Mormon and has been such for a number of

The movements of Young and the surveying parties having gone south strongly indicate that it is their intention at no distant day to make an inroad into Mexico, and there establish theman inroad mile mexico, and there estadoss to em-letyes. It may now be considered certain that sonora or some adjoining state will be allected as their future residence. It may be mentioned that it is believed in some quarters, that the evacuation of Salt Lake is the result of Col.

Firders had been sept to the soldlers not to advance from Fort Bridger. It is reported that pign words passed between Goy. Cumming and den Johnston; the latter declaring that his orders directed him to take up his quarters in the city, and the former insisting that the Gen-eral should not advance. The General acqui-seced and remained behind. There were some private dispatches to Mr. Hanks, but nothing further has transpired.

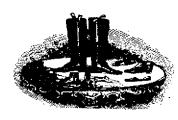

STRAM FIRE ENGINES PUT TO A NEW USE.-The mayor put the steam fire engines fairly to work on the levee, yesterday morning, and they acted like a charm in removing the deposits of mud and filth. As they never get tired, and there is plenty of coal to keep them going, and the experiments entirely satisfactory, it is presumed that all of them will be employed to-day, giving us assurance that by the early part of next week, the wharf will look as clean as a new pin. Not only will this be done, but a saving of $5,000, at least, will be effected by the operation, and the health of the city promoted by it. We think moreover, that these machines may well be called into requisition, hereafter, to clean the streets in the sections in which sew ers have been provided, at a saving of a good many thousands of dollars per annum. The experiment should, at all events, be tried.—St.

Louis Republican. SAN PATCH OUTDONE .-- As a pleasure party were out sailing on the lake yesterday, a sailor ascended the mast of the vessel and leaped into the take, a distance of 180 feet. He was respued by a small boat in an nannible state, but soon revived, expressing the opinion that hilt was an almighty good jump."—Ohioage Jours and

That the house affords superior advantages to the Wool Growers into the hands of the manufacturer, is now no longer a question. But although a very large number of a wool Growers have availed themselves of these advantages during the last four years, yet, superising as it may appear to many, our receipts have been larger from Murchants and Wool bayers than from Woolgrowers, and this may be accounted for mainly from the fact, that, as a class, woolgrowers have been more easily influenced and misted than the former, by the statements of a few operators who are whelly opposed to alt efforts haviog for their object the systems. The past year characterized as it has been by the most disastron, finencial endarracaments has been one of the root informate for negotiating and managing sales of wool, and the fact that the enterprise has been remarkably successful, netwithstanding these disadvantages, and given almost universal satefact on to consigners, should, we thuk, inspire sufficient enterprise to induce large consignments from wood-grow-COMMERCIAL COLLEGE.
